CONVENTION & VISITORS BUREAU

Little Rock Convention & Visitors Bureau (LRCVB) takes the well-being of our visitors seriously, and we are committed to providing the most current information and resources regarding the current status of COVID-19. State and local officials along with LRCVB are monitoring the COVID-19 situation daily. We recommend all concerned individuals stay current with the most recent information provided by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Arkansas Department of Health.

It's important to note that there are no travel restrictions to prevent travel or meetings anywhere in the U.S. It is also important to note there have been NO confirmed cases of the virus in Arkansas.

LRCVB does not anticipate any changes to current scheduled events at LRCVB facilities (Statehouse Convention Center and Robinson Center), and we have already taken measures to provide a safer environment for all individuals that attend meetings and events in LRCVB managed facilities. We are providing hand sanitizer and wipes in multiple public areas throughout the facilities, and we are increasing the frequency of disinfecting handrails, doors and other public surface areas.

While the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) currently believes that the immediate health risk to the general American public is low, it also acknowledges that the potential public health threat presented by COVID-19 is high. As such, extensive measures are being taken to limit the spread and impact of COVID-19.

All current medical advice indicates that travel in the U.S. can continue as normal and the CDC is encouraging the same personal best practices that are standard for a typical flu season – frequent washing of hands, use of sanitizing wipes and consulting with a doctor before traveling when sick, and staying up to date on vaccinations, etc.

Rest assured, we are continuing to monitor this situation and follow the guidance offered by the CDC, as well as state and local public health authorities, and will take precautionary measures and provide updates as they are available.
